FOREWORD

The Harrison student body has added another year of school history to the long and glorious records already compiled for the past twenty-eight years. The seniors have correlated and bound the 1937-38 story for you into this attractive twenty-first volume of the HARRISONIAN as a permanent album and record of the school's personnel, activities, events and achievements of the school this year.

Innovations which we call to your particular attention are the interesting pictures of HANDS mastering business machines in our commercial department, and the Feature section containing a variety of interests to meet the tastes of all who may read and enjoy this book.

We submit the 1938 HARRISONIAN for your pleasure and approval.

OUR THEME

In all fields of endeavor man's most reliable tools and faithful servants are his HANDS. They respond to the severest discipline and acquire skill enabling their owner to create the nicest machines and to operate them with accuracy and speed. At Harrison our HANDS are trained to meet demands of the business world. Our theme is Vocational Training for Business Excellence.

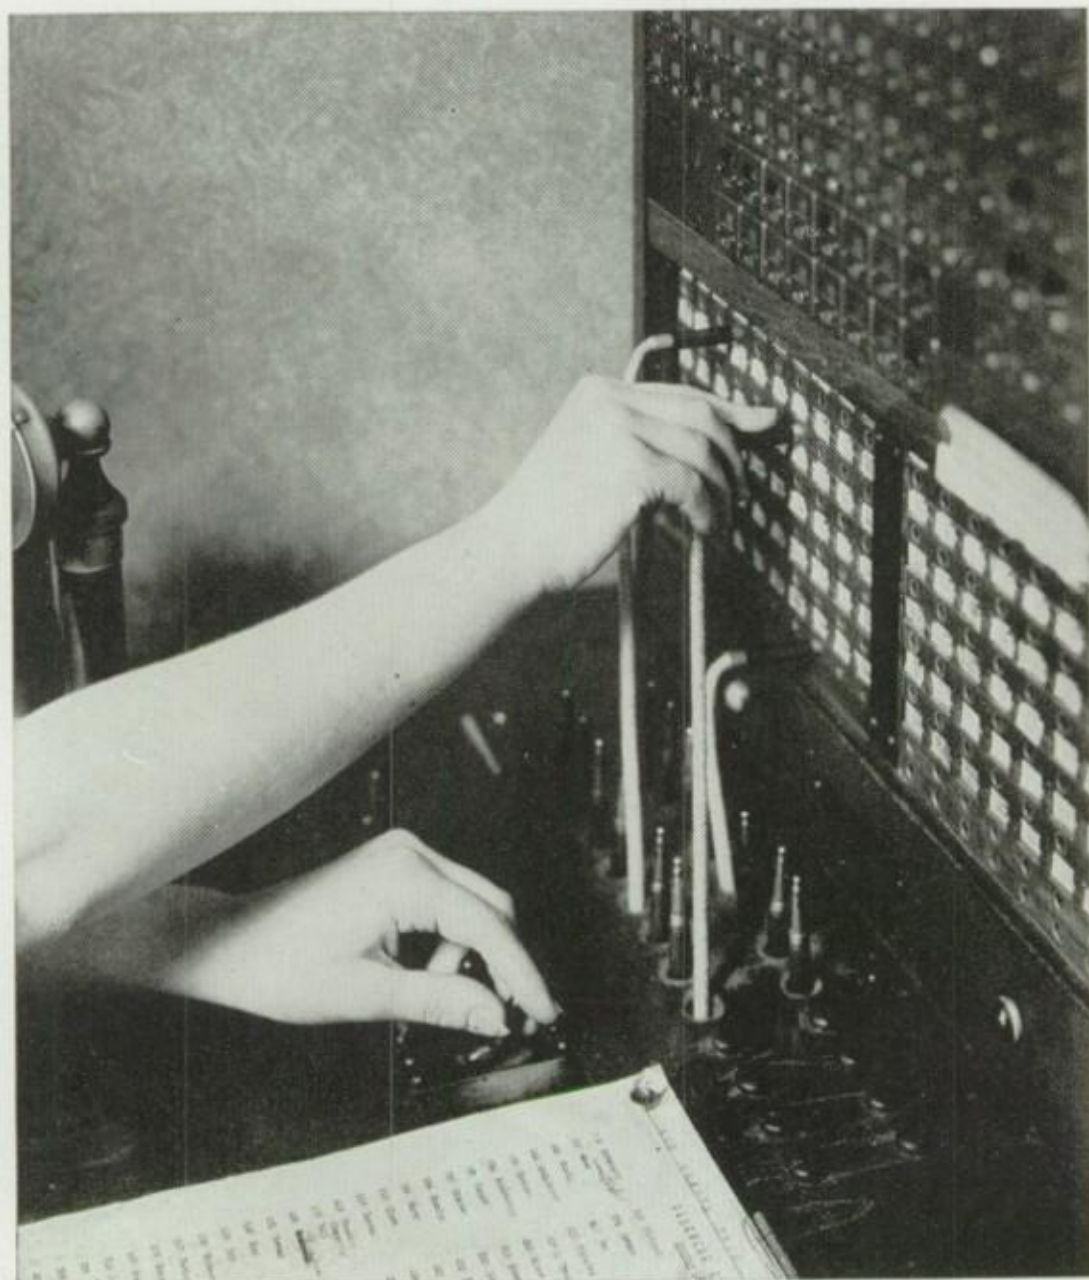

DEDICATION

Since the present trend of education in industrial cities is toward vocational training, would it not be of interest to know that Harrison was one of the first schools in Chicago to offer academic, technical and business courses ever since its beginning in 1912? It was one of the city's first co-technical schools and through its hundreds of graduates serving in responsible positions it offers sufficient evidence that high school training for specialized work is justified.

Because our commercial courses prepare our students for excellence in their work and for a richer life, we, the class of 1938, appropriately dedicate this book to the Ideals of Business Excellence taught in this school.

FEATURES

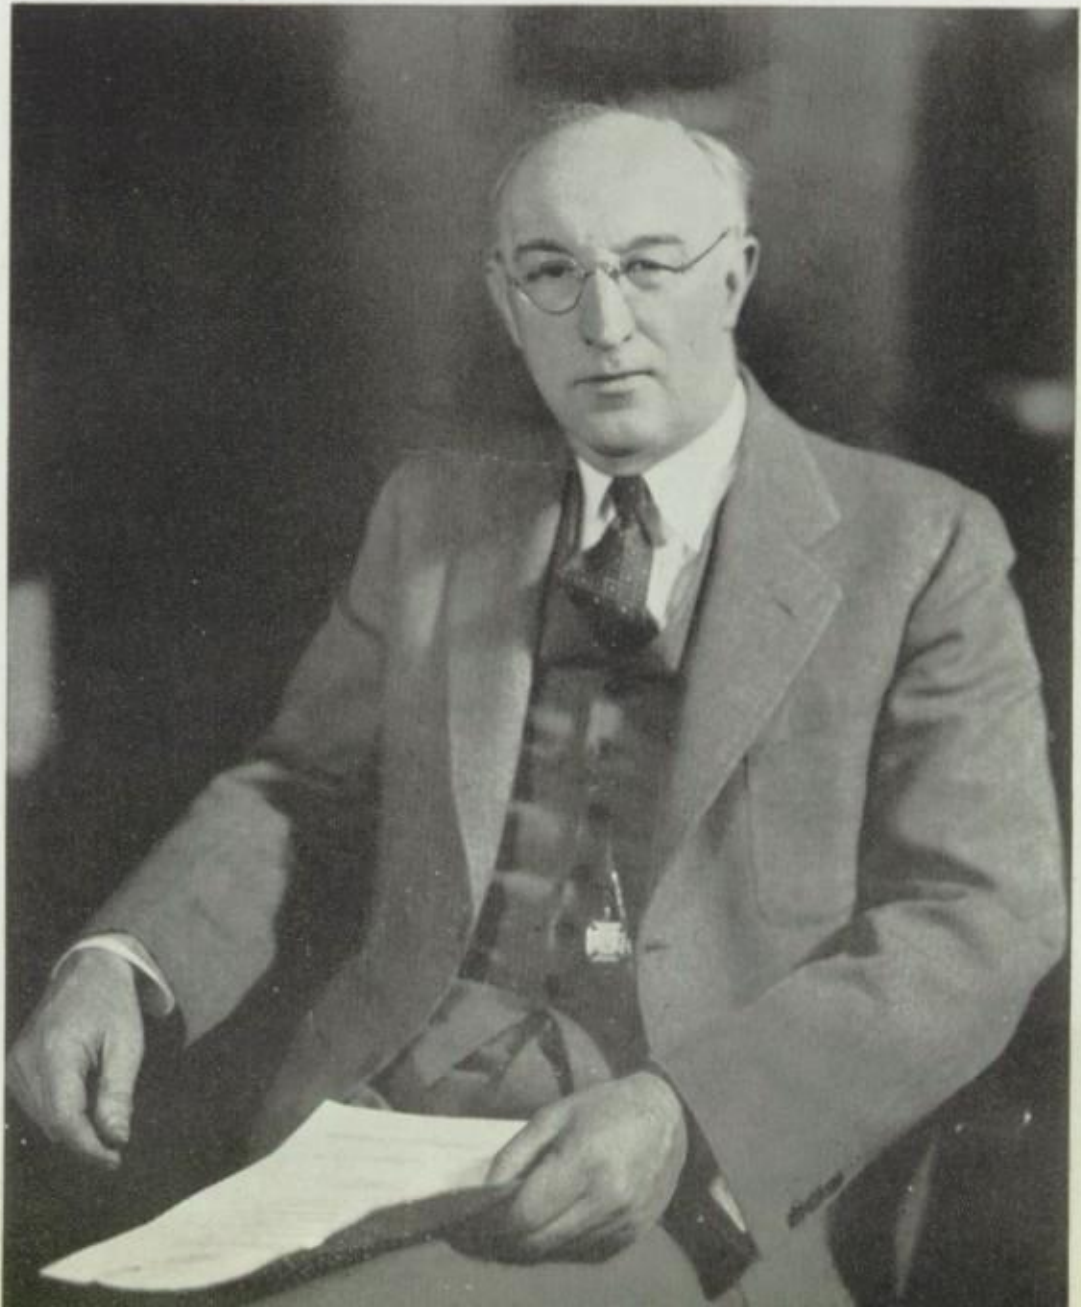

H A R R I S O N I A N

The Harrison High School has given help to students working in three fields, the academic, the technical and the commercial. To the boys and girls in the academic and technical schools their work at Harrison is often but an introduction to more serious labors in the universities and technical colleges—or in the industrial world about us. But to most of our commercial students graduation spells the end of formal education. To them the business office and the counting house call. It is of them we, back at Harrison, first hear; it is from their employers and their friends that we first learn of their successes. They are Harrison's first line—its point of contact with the outside world—by it Harrison learns of her success or failure in molding young men and women for life's duties.

So Harrison places upon you students of the 1938 commercial course the responsibility of keeping aloft her traditions of scholarship, sportsmanship and high honor. You are the first of your class to be measured by the world of work, the others will follow. And as your brothers and sisters of former classes have done, so may you. Harrison expects it.

OFFICE 109

N. N. Spangler

Mr. Norman N. Spangler, assistant principal, and Mr. Harry Twining are always at the service of teachers and pupils who need administrative help in solving either individual or routine school problems. In Office 109 Harrisonites may receive no less than fifty-seven varieties of "Social Security."

Miss Rose Friedman, Mrs. Constance Long, and the corps of student assistants in the office of statistics and records.

ADJUSTMENT

The Adjustment Office was established about a year ago to provide service to teacher and student through the better understanding and guidance of high school pupils. It obtains significant information on all pupils before they come to Harrison and assists them in the selection of subjects best suited to their needs. Records valuable in student guidance are assembled in the office and made easily available to the teachers. It is under the supervision of the Bureau of Child Study and obtains, when necessary, the services of specialists and clinics where their help is needed to solve difficult student problems. Vocational guidance, information on colleges and student placement in business and industry are among the services provided for graduating students.

Under the supervision of Mr. Boyer and Miss Thorndike, the 4B class, comprising only six divisions, has been organized into a compact group with its own assemblies and a set of class officers. Ever since we enrolled at Harrison we have been a class with wholesome school spirit, and have tried to give something to our school as well as to take something from it. Holding office are:

President	WALTER PORTNER
Vice-President	HARRY WILK
Secretary	ROSEMARY KROPIK
Treasurer	WALTER FULTON

Sixty of the 4B's accompanied by Mr. Boyer and Miss Thorndike were entertained at a luncheon given at the DeMet's Restaurant. This was followed by a series of helpful lectures on social habits by Miss Thorndike.

With several other activities on its social calendar the 4B Class is having a successful season and is looking forward eagerly to its 4A semester. The fact that we are so well united this semester, assures us a happy time our last months as envied 4A's.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores are a vital part of Harrison. They participate in school activities, and many are active members of the various school clubs.

Their outstanding qualities are school spirit and loyalty, and they all do their best to maintain Harrison's standards. The Sophomores, like the other groups, have class assemblies, and have elected class officers, chosen for their ability and intelligence.

As a whole, the sophomores are an intelligent and aggressive class, who are contributing much to the school, and will continue to contribute much in their remaining years. Harrison will always be proud of her "Sophs," both in high school and in their later life.

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen are perhaps the most interesting of Harrison's students. Slowly we see them becoming dignified and active in the school's many activities. Today, more than ever before, they are beginning to join clubs, which is to their advantage. The greatest amount of school spirit is furnished by this class. They have the spirit of belonging to a great organization which the upper classes lose too soon.

FRESHMEN

Misses Scanlon, Cappetta, Clark and Mrs. Hagey have this semester been assigned to project groups.

Each group has only two teachers, in whose room they remain for two hours. This gives the teacher more personal contact with the pupil.

The groups take tours to places of interest that aid them in their classes. The aim of this project group is to get a closer teacher-pupil relationship and to help adjust the work to the pupil's individual needs.

JUNGMAN

The Jungman School was erected in 1902 in a community composed mainly of Czechoslovakians. It was named for Joseph Jacob Jungmann—an idol of the Czechs who was a powerful influence in awakening a national spirit among them.

The four hundred students in attendance manifest a very fine school spirit which is mainly due to the excellent school organization of Mr. William H. Collins and his efficient staff of teachers.

UPPER CLASSMEN

FEBRUARY

On a dark cloudy day in February, 1936, we started our high school careers at the Jungman Branch of Harrison High School.

Having just graduated from grammar school, we assumed an air of importance and self-satisfaction but we were secretly awed by this new step—HIGH SCHOOL. Everything was so new and bewildering that we surely would have been very much discouraged but for the kindly guidance of our division teachers, Mrs. Pattison and Mr. Oertli.

We numbered about eighty at the start but drop-outs and the transfer of "Technical" boys to the Main Building, reduced our number to a mere forty-two. However, there were still enough of us to establish some memorable records in Jungman's annuals.

Looking into our past record you will find officials for the boys' athletic teams, winners of the track meet, the girls' championship volley ball team, and several leads of the operettas, "Pickles" and "The Belle of Bagdad."

We are proud of these records and sorry we could not do more for a school that offered us many wonderful opportunities and experiences. However, it is our hope, as we leave Jungman and enter the main building of Harrison High School, that we shall continue this interest in school activities and thereby maintain the high ideals awakened in us by our much loved and highly esteemed branch faculty.

JUNE

Room 305 was brought together back in September, 1936. We were fresh from the grammar schools, full of awe and just a bit shaky. High school was such a new adventure, but our teachers took a great interest in us, directing, sympathizing, encouraging, and sometimes scolding, so that soon grammar school was a pleasant memory, and we were in the full swing of high school life.

We remained intact until this semester when six of our fellow classmates were transferred to the main building, to continue their technical work. When Room 203 was disbanded many of its students became a part of room 305. We now number thirty-eight.

Reviewing our past record, we have some outstanding achievements. As freshmen, the boys were winners in the football, indoor, and volley ball tournaments. Most of our members were in the chorus of The Belle of Bagdad. This semester finds many of us in The Lucky Jade, Jungman's 1938 production. Other activities in which room 305 participated were the Thanksgiving drive, the girls' athletics, the monthly socials, and the student council. We are proud to announce that two of the officers of the council are members of room 305.

With such a fine record, and with many pleasant memories, it is going to be just a little heartsickening to say good-bye to Jungman. We have learned to love the branch, and it is going to be a slight case of jealousy to think that Mr. Jicha is bringing up a new crop of boys and girls after we leave. We know that Mr. Jicha is going to miss us, for he was very fond of us. But life goes on, and new adventures, new friends, new teachers await us at the main building.

LOWER CLASSMEN

HARRISONIAN

F O R 1 9 3 8

In order that more of the students who read the Harrisonian may know some of the details involved in each publication, we are adding this article.

The new Harrisonian office is in Room 338 in the one-way corridor. This room is always very sunny, quiet, has plenty of space to work and has most of the equipment we need.

It takes almost two hundred and seventy-five people to get out a Harrisonian each year. This includes delegates, the Harrisonian staff and faculty both of Harrison and the branch, Jungman. It also takes almost a full year to get together all the material needed for the book. Besides getting out the book the Harrisonian cooperates with other school activities.

Besides the staff, the following helped on the 1938 book: Zdenka Neskodny, Leona Kmiec, Virginia Vojtech, Esther Siegel, Marie Bonamer, Lena Feinstein, Elizabeth Whiting, Clarissa Taraba, Dorothy Seifen, Louis Hornick, Dorothy Salmich, Genevieve Kontak, Bernadette Cook, Blanche Anderson, Rudolph Leigott, Dorothea Steiner, Walter Bielecki, Florence Halowi, Joseph Nolan, Robert Peterson, Helen Mlaker, Lillian Mack, Velen Vietti, Beatrice Clinnin, Natalie Ehresman, Walter Braun, Ann Groszek, Margaret Clinnin, Betty Sievers, Arthur Sus, and Arthur Pang. Still another group got advertisements; and room delegates managed the sales.

The Parent Teacher Association, since its organization in 1931, has proved to be one of the vital factors in the development and progress of the Harrison Technical High School. Many improvements adding to the beauty and comfort of the school have been added by this group.

The theme for the year was "Character Building Through Home, School and Community." This theme was carried out at our meetings each month through prominent speakers and educators.

The major project this year was membership. We increased our membership by ninety-four over last year.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Maclear and the division teachers, mothers received a special invitation to attend a meeting. The room that had the most parents present at the meeting received $1.00.

We cooperated with the Adult Education group by giving them one of our free nights, so that they might bring their worth while work to the community.

The Association purchased uniforms in March for those band members not belonging to the ROTC. The Band had been without uniforms for over a year due to ROTC regulations, and we are very much enthused over wearing them again.

The Band attended the National Contest in May at Elkhart, Indiana, and the Association succeeded in raising $1,100 for the trip, due to the cooperation of the Alumni group who ran a dance at the Allerton Hotel, the proceeds of which went to the Band. At this dance medals were presented by the association, to the Band for their victory at the City contest in April. They were rated "Superior with distinction."

Now that the problem of uniforms is solved, the Association plans to see that the band room is remodeled and properly equipped.

ORCHESTRA

The Harrison Orchestra owes its origin to Mr. Emery. The Orchestra's second sponsor was Miss Kilgour, and when she was transferred, Mrs. Pattison took over the sponsorship.

The orchestra is always in demand for all school activities. This year they participated in Pow-Wow, the Spring Festival, and accompanied "Martha." They also play for graduations and assemblies.

Members are as follows:

Violin

OUR BAND

One of the most active organizations which Harrison possesses is the ninety piece Concert Band, under the direction of Captain John J. Barabash.

During the fall semester, the band gave its tenth annual concert, marking a decade in which they have won city and national recognition. The proceeds from the concert went towards the upkeep of the band.

The organization is divided into three separate units, the thirty-five piece ROTC Band, the Girls' Band and Orchestra Corps and the Boys' Band Corps.

On March 27, 1938 the Concert Band, Military Band and A Cappella Choir gave a spring concert, the first of its kind ever to be held at Harrison. At this concert the outstanding soloists and ensemble of the city contest were presented.

The Band Club, to which every band member belongs, furthers the musical and social interests of the band.

On Saturday, May 21, 1938 our band won its third National Championship. Before enthusiastic spectators and music critics Pestalozza's March "Ciribiribin," Berlioz's "Beatrice et Benedict" and C. Saint Saens' Symphonic Poem "Phaeton" were rendered by our well-disciplined band.

After an elaborate display of fireworks, the ensemble played the Star Spangled Banner. The pronouncement of the winner was then made. Joyously the victors paraded through the city which had been gracious hosts to its many visitors.

The members of the Mixed Chorus of the Harrison High School are music lovers who have had one semester or more of music. The chorus has about seventy members.

Our chorus took part in the Spring Festival and the "Pow Wow." The group has sponsored dances, a skating party and also a social for the members.

This semester we held our first annual Flower Sale at which we sold roses. Part of the proceeds we donated to the School Children's Aid Fund and the rest to the treasury.

Future plans include participation in the Spring Festival on April 20, 1938, the first appearance under the leadership of our new sponsor, Mrs. Pattison.

This new musical organization under the inspired direction of Mrs. Dorothy Pattison has startled the music loving Harrison students, faculty, and friends with its beautiful work.

Always generous and ready to give programs, and having a varied repertoire, the Choir has built a fine reputation and is marching steadily on to real artistic heights! Surpassing most high schools organizations in interpretation, spirit, and attention, they did excellent work in both the preliminary and final Choral Contests.

Entrance to the Choir is by try-out, and membership is limited to eighty students. Honorary medals for service are given at graduation. The future of the Advanced Concert Choir is assured through the organization of a beginner's choir, and the standards of achievement are raised each semester.

In the early spring the organization was featured in a highly successful band concert. The second act of the Opera "Martha" was presented in the first concert of the A Cappella Choir.

The Puppet Players' Club is open to membership for sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are interested in puppets and dramatics. Its aim is social as well as educational. The meetings are held on alternate Fridays. Every semester the Puppet Players present a puppet show in which the members take the part of voices and operate the puppets. The entire club visits a theatre in which there are stage plays presented. We also have several socials a semester which are well taken care of by the members.

Although a small organization, we have accomplished much during the last year. Two plays, "The Elves and the Shoemaker," and "Another Adventure of the Three Little Pigs," were presented at the close of last semester to eight different audiences.

B-a-t-t-a-l-i-o-n!!!! Ten—shun!!!! Squads left; march. B-a-t-t-a-l-i-o-n!!!! Halt!!!! Thus with Cadet Major George Cohn leading some 225 spic and span cadets, Harrison's eighteenth annual federal inspection got under way. This was Sergeant Bastnagel's third year as ROTC instructor, and big improvement was noticeable over the previous two years. The increase in enrollment recorded a total unapproached in the history of Harrison. The leadership, general appearance, and the manner in which the boys conducted themselves spoke well for the organization. When the inquiring reporter approached Sergeant Bastnagel about replacing the graduating officers, he merely smiled and said: "The sun is shining brighter than ever." Cadet Major Wilfred Forster lead the unit the first semester and proved an excellent leader in all respects.

This year a platoon competition was held among the twenty-seven high schools instead of the squad competition. Of this group Harrison was truly the "dark horse." In 1936 the competitive squad finished in fifteenth place, not a very creditable showing; last year found the squad winding up in sixth place, a big improvement over the former. However, when the select platoon of 1938 stepped out and captured third place in the city, it was the best showing Harrison had made since the ROTC was established eighteen years ago. Perhaps Harrison has at last found itself and will continue to improve each year. When asked about 1939 and its possibilities, Sergeant Bastnagel quickly replied: "I am living in 1938; would prefer to wait until next year. Only time will tell. Much water will pass under the bridge before 1939." First place is the goal of every competitive platoon. However, only one can win the city honors, and one of these years it might be Harrison. Until and when that time comes it will be doing its best. The ROTC wishes to thank Mr. Maclear, Mr. Spain and the gymnasium department for their fine cooperation for the use of the large gymnasium. It was there from 8:00 to 8:30 every morning that the boys perfected their drill, perhaps a bit early for most of them. No doubt they lost a few winks in so doing, but not one would object to the same procedure again.

In conclusion Sergeant Bastnagel, speaking for the unit: I think we have enjoyed a very successful year, all things considered. Good-bye until next September.

The Girl Reserves are junior members of the YWCA. Membership is open to girls of all races and creeds. Our aim is to promote friendship, good times, school cooperation, service and high ideals of personal and social living. A Girl Reserve tries to face life squarely and to find and give the best. Every member gives her suggestions and from all the suggestions the club builds a program that interests everyone.

During the fall semester the most outstanding events were a talk on Europe by Miss Morse and a trip to a radio broadcast.

The White Eagles Club is among the youngest clubs at Harrison. It was organized in 1930, to acquaint Polish students with Polish culture in general.

At the meetings held twice a month the students as well as the cabinet have endeavored to awaken the interest of the students by having entertainment and speakers presented. Socials are held by the club at regular intervals. Each year a picnic is held jointly with another club in school. Money acquired from the annual dances is used to aid needy Polish students.

As a member of the Polish Student Federation, an organization of all the Polish clubs in Chicago, the White Eagles will, in all probability send delegates to the convention to be held this summer.

The club extends many thanks to its sponsors Miss Fox, Mrs. Harris, and Miss Gannon for their cooperation during the semester.

Mr. Phipps and Miss Balcomb with Lunch Room Aids.

The purpose of this organization is to discuss important social and political problems and to endeavor to improve conditions in the school.

The work of the LRA's, a branch of the CIF, in the lunchroom has helped to improve the appearance of our dining room.

The program of the club is varied from week to week. Such subjects as the Sino-Japanese War, what is being done to further improve the conditions of the lunchroom, and school spirit, are given from time to time. Pupils from the group speak on the assigned topics and the floor is then opened for discussion. Everyone has an equal chance to express his opinion. Outside speakers have been engaged to speak to us on "War" and "Neutrality."

The sponsor of this educational group is Miss Mary F. Balcomb in Room 227.

The Lunch Room Aids have been in existence since 1934. During the last four years they have accomplished a great deal in bringing about a better and cleaner lunch room. This group of people started as members of the Civic Improvement Forum and remained with them until September, 1937.

Under the supervision of Miss Balcomb, Mr. Phipps, and Mr. Ray, the lunch room has become a symbol of cleanliness and order. In order to bring about this standing in the lunch room, a specific plan was devised by the faculty members in charge. A student is placed in charge of the lunch room and he or she in turn picks the captains. Each student captain appoints sections to the individual Aid and he in turn appoints captains to each table.

Meyer Halperin is the captain of the Lunch Room Aids for all three lunch periods.

DELEGATES

Mr. Elmer Hawkins with the Division Room Delegates, their alternates and the Student Leaders' Round Table.

The projects for the fall undertaken by the group of delegates were: To put into effect the new hall guard system which required scholarship, gave badges, and instituted hall and hall guard inspections. They also sold tickets to the Pow Wow.

Alternates are just what their name implies. They are division room delegates who attend meetings in case of the absense of delegates.

The Student Leaders' Round Table organized the clean-up campaign and did the executive work authorized by the delegates. This group was in charge of ticket sales during the semester.

We have no high-sounding club name but are very proud just to be called Division 120. We are a part (most important maybe) of that fine new group of students entering Harrison last February and for some reason unknown to us are called "Freshies." Perhaps we were somewhat tinged with the "symbols of spring" at first when we went to the various rooms here, looked at the clock and said, "Teacher, what time is it?" or went to our division room at end of the eighth period and asked Mr. Phipps: "Where do we go from here?"

But we have a few ambitions, the greatest one perhaps is to go to college when we graduate from Harrison. And to prove that such is our aim, fifteen of the division or 43% have made the honor roll. As we have just started, what won't we be doing when we are Seniors!

The Harrison Historical Society, a Senior organization, has a membership of approximately one hundred. It has for its main objective the stimulation of interest in the social sciences with emphasis on local history. Its program consists of lectures and conducted trips. The sponsor is Miss O'Hair and the co-sponsors are teachers of the history department.

STEAM ROLLERS

The Lunch Room Aids are a wholly voluntary organization composed mainly of seniors. They have done a great deal in bringing about a cleaner and so a more pleasant place in which to eat.

The badge symbolic of this organization, is a gray LRA on a blue background. This oval shaped insignia distinguishes the Aids from the student body.

Throughout the three lunch periods the small group maintains a systemized plan by which the Lunch Room is kept clean and orderly.

The student head of the LRA's is Meyer Halperin. The captains of the three respective periods are: Anne Babka, Bernard Levinsky, and Daniel Svabek.

Division 122 is made up of boys who are leaving this great institution with the idea of conquering new worlds.

While here, room teams have captured the following honors: Class Champs in Football, twice; Waterball, three times; Volley Ball, twice; Basketball, once. In their senior year they won school championships in Basketball, Waterball and Bowling.

Some of the best athletes in this room are the following: Henry Petrzilka, a letter winner in Football, Soccer and Gymnastics; Leon Gondek, all center Fullback for two years and winner of two Football letters; John Bittner, Gene Szezepkowski, and George Napieralski won two letters in Football; Walter Bielecki and James Kubisie, winners of one letter apiece in Football.

Mochini, Typner, Vocelka, Draus, Novak, Guluska, Carlacheck, Buron, Kozmie, Jurzak, Gustafson, and Vrona are others who should be mentioned as distinguished members.

One of the largest and most promising organizations at Harrison is the Social Science Economics Club, which was organized some fifteen years ago. Students who are taking or have taken Social Science are eligible for membership. In order to accommodate the majority of the pupils, Mr. Hawkins, the sponsor, divided the organization into two groups, known as the Seventh Period Economics and Eighth Period Social Science Clubs. Its purpose is to better acquaint the student with the economic conditions of his community and country, as well as those of the world.

The club has heard Judge Gorman of the Juvenile Court speak on youth, liquor and Marihuana. Another very excellent lecture was given by Mr. Miller of the Chicago Historical Society, who talked about the Indian background of this community, which, of course, was of great interest to Harrison students.

Among the places visited by the two groups are the WGN Broadcasting Studio, the Tribune Tower, County Jail, Juvenile Court, and the Bridewell.

It takes a wide-awake corps of students to man the hall guard posts in the corridors of Harrison. Special chairs designed with a desk and shelf for books are used by the guards. It is an honor to be permitted to serve in the capacity of guard because only pupils receiving approval of their teachers may act. They apply for the position a semester in advance and receive assignment only if no one objects. Unless they prove worthy after the assignment, they are replaced by others who are desirous of proving themselves capable of carrying out the best interests of Harrison.

Membership is open to any student interested in the customs, activities, culture, and accomplishments of people throughout the world. Pupils in the geography classes find this club especially beneficial and attractive because of its programs and its social life.

The annual Xmas Party which met with tremendous success was attended by the founder and former sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Balhouse.

This Club was organized in March, 1937. The purpose of this club is to stimulate the enjoyment of good literature, dramatic skits, and other literary activities.

Our regular meetings, held on Monday of every second week, are not only business meetings but also social. At every meeting one hears an interesting book report or a short dramatic skit from one of the members.

Last June the club held its first social, which proved to be a great success. The members of the Readers' Guild wish to extend a hearty thanks to Miss Steele, our sponsor, who helped to make this club a success.

About the most practical, yet most interesting club at Harrison meets in our apartment on the third floor.

This club does unusual things. A stylist from a New York pattern house recently gave a style show at which 250 members were present. The clothes displayed were an inspiration to all the girls. The event was followed by a tea.

The HHA has organized a baseball team this semester and won their first game against the GAA.

In the early spring about 60 members attended a style show in the Carson Pirie Scott & Company tea rooms where a delicious luncheon was served. The clothes modeled were those appropriate for high school girls. This made the members so much more interested that the mannequins discussed the prices and grade of materials of the garments they were modeling.

There have been two displays of the creations the girls turned out. The first was given over to the 1B sewing classes.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club was organized in September, 1936. During its first semester it attained a membership of seventy-three. During its second semester the membership grew to ninety-six. This year the club has continued to grow in popularity and achievement, the paid-up membership reaching the one hundred mark before the Christmas vacation.

The club has continued to meet on the first Tuesday and the third Thursday of each calendar month. At these meetings members have exhibited their pictures and told of their experiences in the field of photography, thus inspiring and assisting one another to greater endeavor and achievement.

Our chief project during the first semester this school year was the photographing of all the division groups with their teacher. We sold pictures to members of the divisions at very nominal prices thus rendering a worthwhile service to all members of the school. Up to Christmas time we had taken all of the senior and nearly all of the junior divisions. We expect to continue with the first and second year divisions during the second semester.

In appreciation of this service the January graduating class has presented to the club a splendid Korona View Camera which is specially well adapted to taking this type of picture.

During the spring semester the Camera Club planned several trips and outings. The first of these took place on Friday, March 18. About forty members left Harrison at the end of the 4-2 period, and went by street car to the Field Museum. Here we found Mr. Roberts and four of the club's best photographers who had preceded us by automobile, already at work photographing the mounted wild animal exhibits in Hall 16 and Hall 17. Most of the members had their cameras, and all joined in the fun of viewing and taking pictures of the various exhibits. The director of the museum was very courteous, not only giving us full entrance and permitting us to photograph the exhibits, but also furnishing us with extension cards and reflectors, and assigning a man to help us with our electrical connections and lights. Some excellent pictures were obtained and by Monday, March 21, the Camera Club exhibit case on the Southwest landing at Harrison was full of pictures taken by our members on the trip.

Our next trip will probably be to the Zoo at Brookfield where we hope to get some good pictures of the living animals. We also hope to visit the Municipal Airport before school closes in June to get some pictures of air craft.

It has been the aim of the Music Hour Club to develop in its members a better understanding of the greatest works in music. This semester showed a change in the system of planning for the weekly programs. Every program consists of requests. Some of the high lights of the term were: The Italian Symphony, Hayden's "Clock" Symphony under the direction of Arturo Toscanini, The Complete Opera "Lohengrin," and Symphony D Minor Cesar-Franck, performed by the Philadelphia Orchestra.

June 17, 1938, marks the close of a very unusual but very fruitful and most happy Freshman year for Room 104. Without boasting, we can say that perhaps nowhere at Harrison will one find such friendliness and such complete accord.

There have been several reasons. Early, in September, 1937, we were assigned to the Project group, with five other divisions—an experiment in modern education. We were thus set apart from the rest of the school so that we naturally turned to one another. Consequently the room spirit became highly developed; we had many socials such as those at Christmas and at St. Valentines Day. We had our own Christmas baskets to distribute to the needy.

The members of the Art Club are those students interested in art. Under the supervision of Mrs. Williams they meet daily during the seventh period and, while delving into various fields of art, also develop their own particular talents.

One of their projects is making many of the posters that are seen about the school representing some of the activities, such as dances, sporting events, concerts and operas.

Contests are held each year in which the students make posters depicting specified themes. Scholarships to Art Schools are given to the winners. Contest posters were made of Fire Prevention, and of the Clean-Up Campaign. Other outstanding poster themes were those of our Parks, Aquarium, Zoo, Museum and Modern Commercial Buildings.

Several of the students won honors in the contests. John Kubilis, received First Prize for his Clean-Up Poster. In the Chicago Jubilee contest Rosalind Katz, Robert Chovanec, Sylvester Zuk, and John Kubilis each won a sixteen color box of paints with their names engraved. Sylvester Zuk won a plaque for the school on his Keep Chicago Safe Poster.

The aim of the Health and Recreation club lies in several fields: to teach each girl what a great menace disease and unhygienic surroundings can be to humanity; to show how the scientists of today laboriously struggle through difficult experiments to help the next fellow overcome some of the disastrous maladies that have come over the world; to furnish forms of entertainment to those who desire it.

A demonstration of manicuring, lectures by doctors are a few of the successes of this semester. A group of girls practise nursing at the Mary Thompson Women and Children's Hospital each week end.

The L'Amici Club began its third year as a club in the fall of 1937. The new members were welcomed and membership was extended to students other than those of Italian parentage.

During this semester the club entered whole heartedly into school activities. The members attended a Roller Skating Party at White City given by Mrs. Pattison's group; they supported the activities of various clubs of the school; they attended dances, and ended by seeing the "Pow Wow!"

The club, of course, had its own program to carry out, too. They studied the history of the Roman Empire at some of their meetings.

In the spring the club will give their second dance. It will welcome the students who wish to enter the club. Also, the meetings will consist of a monthly program of entertainment and refreshments with the dance in February, a St. Patrick's day program in March, an Easter program in April, a Spring Festival in May and a Farewell to Seniors in June.

We wish to extend our most sincere thanks to Miss Gray for her wonderful help and cooperation and for serving as our sponsor during the Spring term.

The Pipelayers is an organization which was established for the promotion of school athletics. It consists of only members of Division 206 and is sponsored by Mr. McClellan who is like a father to the boys.

Although the Pipelayers' reputation lies in their athletic abilities, they are socially prominent also. The present 4B class president, Walter Portner; vice-president, Harry Wilk; and Walter Fulton who holds the position of treasurer, are all Pipelayers' of 206.

The organizer of this group is John Zeger. Since the organization of the Pipelayers' which was in 1936, they have won all intramural athletic championships except basketball.

"On The Way Out," a four-act drama, portrays the use of false propaganda in instigating and carrying on wars for the sake of profits. It shows how clever propagandists, with a knowledge of human psychology, so play upon the emotions of people as to intrigue them into starting and carrying on wars. It makes clear the terrible danger to a people whose sources of information are controlled by a few people and used for selfish purposes. It also points to some constructive ways of counteracting propaganda and of developing a spirit of understanding and good will among peoples, essentials of any program looking toward peaceful relations among nations.

The play is put on as a co-operative project between the Dramatic Club and the Civic Youth Forum. It was written by Miss Mary F. Balcomb of the Social Science Department, and George Mayer of the June Class of '35.

The Commercial Girls' Club is one of the foremost clubs at Harrison, having a membership of about 85 girls from all phases of the commercial department.

The group's interests are social and vocational and all plans are made with both these ends in view.

The club owes much of its success to Miss Horning, sponsor, Mr. Wiggs, Miss Bell and Mr. Boyer, co-sponsors who all give much of their time towards making the club one of the best of its kind in the school.

The recently organized Industrial Movie Club composed of young men from Machine Shop A and Foundry is under the sponsorship of Mr. McElhiney.

The purpose of this club is to acquaint the boy who is preparing himself for work in industry by way of motion pictures of actual conditions, methods of operation, and methods of production that exist in various industrial plants.

The films are loaned to us by industrial plants. We supplement these pictures which are free of advertisement with our own practical experience, which serves as a further elucidation of industrial problems for the boys. In this way the young man is able to correlate the fundamentals which we are teaching him in our own shops with the practical problems with which he will come in contact when he enters industry proper.

The Harrison Radio Club consists of boys who are interested in radio. All these boys have an understanding or some knowledge of radio and when a meeting takes place they exchange ideas. Boys who are interested in radio apparatus are assisted by the officers and sponsors of the Club.

Realizing the ever-growing importance of air travel the Aviation Club was organized with Mr. D. C. Clausen as sponsor. The club has adopted as its aim the duty of familiarizing its members with all the phases of aeronautics.

The club is open to students of any grade, the only requirement being an interest in aviation.

The Aviation club concerns itself with the construction of model planes, history of aviation, technical terms, the different types of planes and motors, and aerodynamics.

The experience which the members obtain from these club projects will prove an excellent groundwork for future participation in aeronautics.

The purpose of Players 13 is to study and produce plays, to assist in the cultural development of the club members, and to stimulate interest in drama at Harrison and in the community.

Our staff of student assistants helps to make Harrison's library one of the most serviceable. From presenting you with an admit slip when you enter, to checking your books as you leave, they are on hand to meet your needs. Stamping, shelving, and mending your library's books, writing overdue notices, in addition to taking your admit slip to your study hall teacher are only a few of their many services to the school. They are students who have devoted a study period to contribute their share in keeping the library orderly for your use and enjoyment.

Le Cercle Francais was originated for the purpose of creating a greater interest in the customs and literature of the French people. Any student of Harrison who is interested in French culture is eligible for membership.

During club meetings the members have learned French songs under Miss Kiser's able sponsorship, and several plays were given the most outstanding of these being "Cindrillon" or "Cinderella." The club has also had outstanding French speakers and has gone to see several French movies.

The 4A Broadcast, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Harriet W. Bissel, was organized in the spring of 1937. Published by and in the interests of the Seniors of the Harrison Technical High School, its purpose is to acquaint the students with the activities in the school and to inform them of its various social, athletic and educational functions. The student also finds a means of expressing himself, which he would otherwise lack.

This semester marks the twenty-second year that the Accounting Club has been in existence. During these years the activities of this school organization have dealt with matters purely business. The club was founded by its present sponsor, Mr. Oliver N. Cord, and the programs this year have followed similar ones. Debates, mock trials, talks, readings, trips to business offices and presentation of short plays dealing with events pertaining to business houses have been the general order. Notable outside speakers have entertained the members at times, and this semester, as in former times, a fine social ended the club's activities for the school year.

As one passes through the corridors of the Harrison Technical High School, he is impressed with the presence of students at hall guard stations. The duties of a guard are manifold and very important to the school. Guards inspect passes, direct traffic, escort strangers through the halls and report any unusual occurrence. STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Leaders' Round Table trains students for extra curricular activities by giving help in parliamentary law and in helping committees to function more effectively.

As a result of their three meetings, the delegates reported to their respective rooms on hall guard cooperation and the Clean-Up Drive.

The Student Council is a restoration of a group which existed in the past. The members are the delegates and representatives. They meet twice a week, give student opinion and attend to the executive work of the delegates.

This semester's Club followed the same general activities of its predecessors by going on an excursion to the Tribune Building and planning for other similar excursions to the Board of Trade, the Bridewell, and the County Morgue.

Both groups have the same pin, an owl with blue eyes sitting on a book with the Greek initials, S. S. E.

This semester's membership totals to one of the largest the Social Science Economics Club ever enjoyed with approximately one hundred and eighty members.

After a lapse of nearly four years, the Harrison Herald, which had been an important factor in school affairs, made its first appearance on April 8, 1938. It was found advisable to issue the paper bi-weekly on a subscription basis. The staff was selected from the members of the two Journalism classes, which included students from the 2B to the 4B semesters, inclusive. The staff members have been very appreciative of the enthusiastic support of the student body and hope to make this publication worthy of the school that it represents.

F O O T B A L L

At the first call for heavyweight candidates the chances for a championship team looked bright. After practice started, a few dropped out, but sufficient material to furnish Harrison with a good team remained.

In the first game of the season Harrison played Tilden and because of injuries to some of the regular players Harrison lost 20 to 7. The second game was lost to Lindblom by a score of 6 to 0. This game was a very exciting one. Our Heavies should have won, for Harrison threatened Lindblom on Lindblom's one-yard line; but because of her fumbles, Harrison was unable to score. Harrison played her last game of the season against Martin's Ferry in Ohio, and although our team put up a wonderful fight, the game ended with the score of 27 to 0 in Ferry's favor.

The team under the direction of Coach Robert F. Dougherty, concluded a successful season which brought to an end the prep football days of the following regulars: Sosniak, Szczepkowski, Napieralski, Bittner, Gondek, Petrizelka, Zach, Zegar, Tana, Michalecka, B. Malek, Lukpetris and Sherre.

The regulars who will be back next season are: Capt.-elect H. Wilk, Gawron, Fulton, Souhrada, Kowalis and Jankaus.

With many of these returning to the game next fall, we predict a grand season for 1938.

The basketball team at Harrison is chosen by the coach from those players who try for the team. These boys must not have any failures, and must be through with their freshman year. The purpose of the boys is to supply the school with a team to be proud of, and to give the students an enjoyable time at each game. The team teaches the boys good sportsmanship and cooperation.

The outstanding game of the season was against Farragut. The rivalry between Farragut and Harrison is long known. This year both the lightweights and the heavyweights triumphed over Farragut. The lightweights played at Farragut and won by a score of 45-42. The heavyweights played at home and before a huge crowd won 33-32.

The schedule of last season with scores is:

This club was organized in 1923 by D. F. Holmes and E. E. Ruzicka who acted as faculty advisors. The club has gone a long way since 1923 and at present under Mr. Hansen is reaching new heights.

The purpose of the Club is to foster clean activities including athletics at Harrison and to uphold the tradition of the school.

The requirements for membership in the club are: the boy must win his letter in athletic competition with other high schools and his character and scholarship must be approved by three teachers who have had him in their classes. This is a club which any young man is proud to join.

A few of the activities planned for this semester by the H Club are: the admission of new members, a trip to a Radio Broadcasting Station, a dance in January, and a volley ball game with the F Club of Farragut. The most important thing on our yearly program is the awarding of the "H" club emblem to all graduates.

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized at Harrison in November, 1925. It is one of the few clubs at Harrison for girls. Its aim and purpose is to instill in a girl fair play, better sportsmanship, and in some cases to improve her athletic ability. The club has under its control the intra-mural referees who may earn either a bronze, silver, or gold pin depending upon their services.

Inter-scholastic competition was abolished and intra-mural competition introduced by which a girl, earning one thousand points may earn a school letter, a blue "H" similar to that the boys wear, in fact the only difference is that the colors are reversed.

PRACTICAL ART

Although prize winning and window trimming has nothing to do with our Art Department, we feel that they are distinct artistic achievements and should be mentioned in the art division of the feature section.

John Lozanski, a graduate in June, 1938, won a $2,500 prize in a window trimming contest sponsored by the Liggett and Meyer Tobacco Company.

Twenty-two hundred contestants, between the ages of 18 and 28 participated. Although Mr. Lozanski had worked for the Liggett and Meyer Tobacco Company for over a year, he had only two months in which to prepare his prize-winning blue and white crepe papered window display.

He found what he had learned about color combinations while taking art from Mrs. Minor was a great help to him.

After paying off 40% to the government for inheritance tax, $300 to join the Company Club, into which he will be initiated at Churchill Downs this spring at the Kentucky Derby, $25 Social Security Tax, and $117 Lawyer's fee, John had about $700 left for himself.

A picture of the prize-winning window will appear in a commercial magazine. His ambition is to become associated with Marshall Field and Company as a window trimmer at a possible salary of $120 a week.

To John Lozanski we say, "Congratulations, and may your ambition be fulfilled to the letter."

ART CLUB

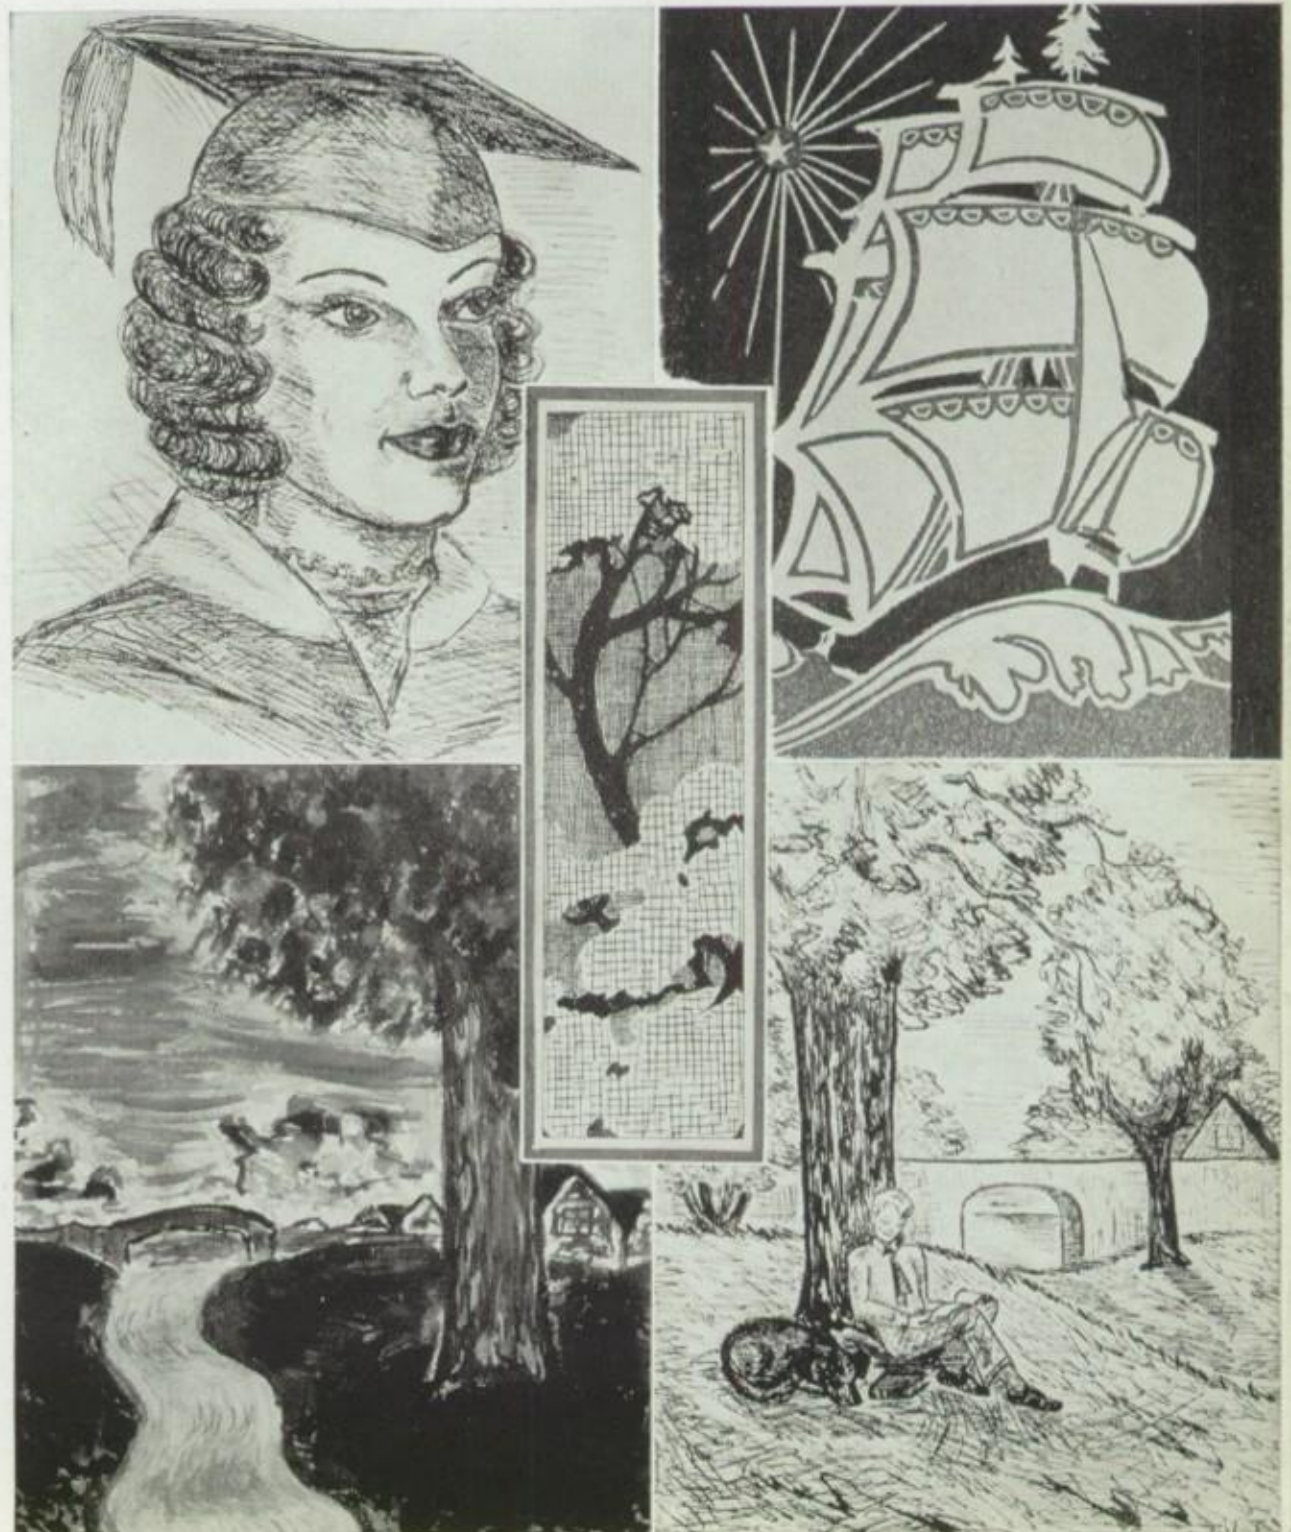

The Art Club, on short order, makes many of the school's most effective and attractive posters.

Posters are made to advertise dances, plays, concerts, operettas or socials given by the different clubs and organizations at Harrison. Others are made to acquaint us with many of the high spots of our city and as reminders of good manners.

The Art Club has always cooperated with Mr. Maclear and club sponsors and proves their loyalty by the support given to extra curricular activities at Harrison.

A part of the credit for the revival of the Harrison Herald is due to the poster makers who have carried on a successful campaign of advertising the school paper.

The members of the club, because they are such willing and quiet workers, seem to be taken for granted, but we wish to say that we really appreciate what the Art Club has contributed to making our school a better one.

AERIAL VIEW

This attractive birds-eye view of Harrison Technical High School was taken in the fall of 1937 by the Metropolitan Studios. It appeared in the school section of a Chicago Sunday Newspaper. The picture is especially valuable to us because it shows our beautiful school and athletic field as well as the neighborhood.

Located at the portage of LaSalle and Joliet our school is conveniently centered in a community of various attractions and interesting buildings. The tree-lined boulevard on two sides of the school gives a park-like appearance; the cottages to the north, a home-like atmosphere; the theaters, churches, elementary schools, and factories reflect the varied activities and interests which surround us.

ART DEPARTMENT . . .

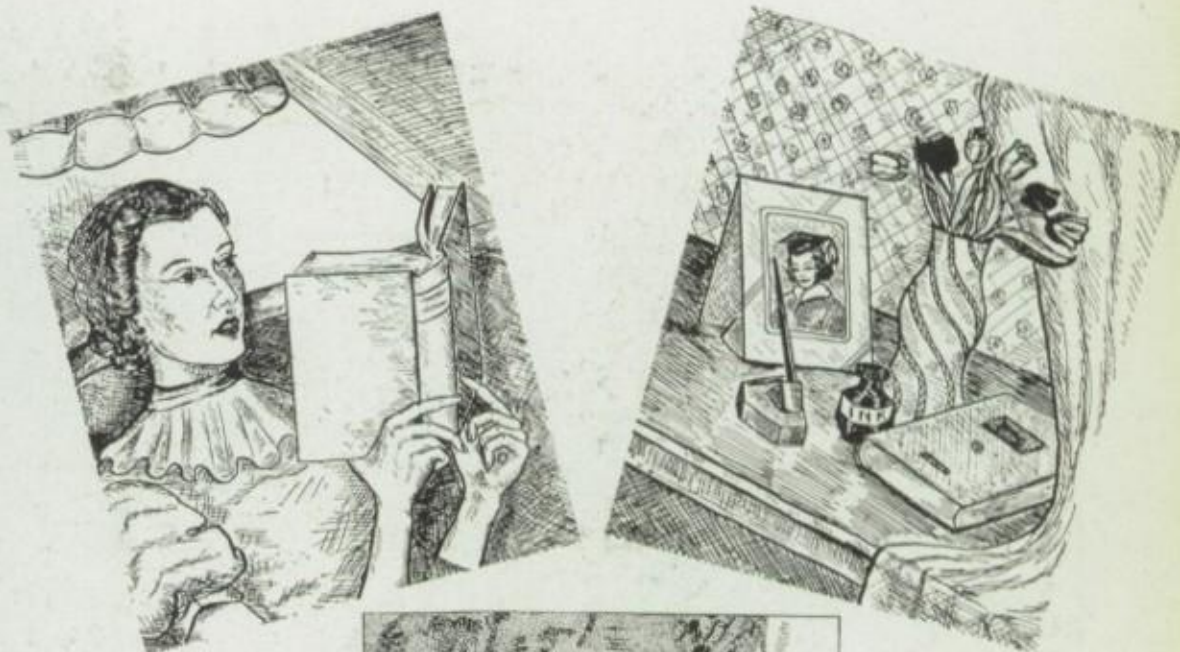

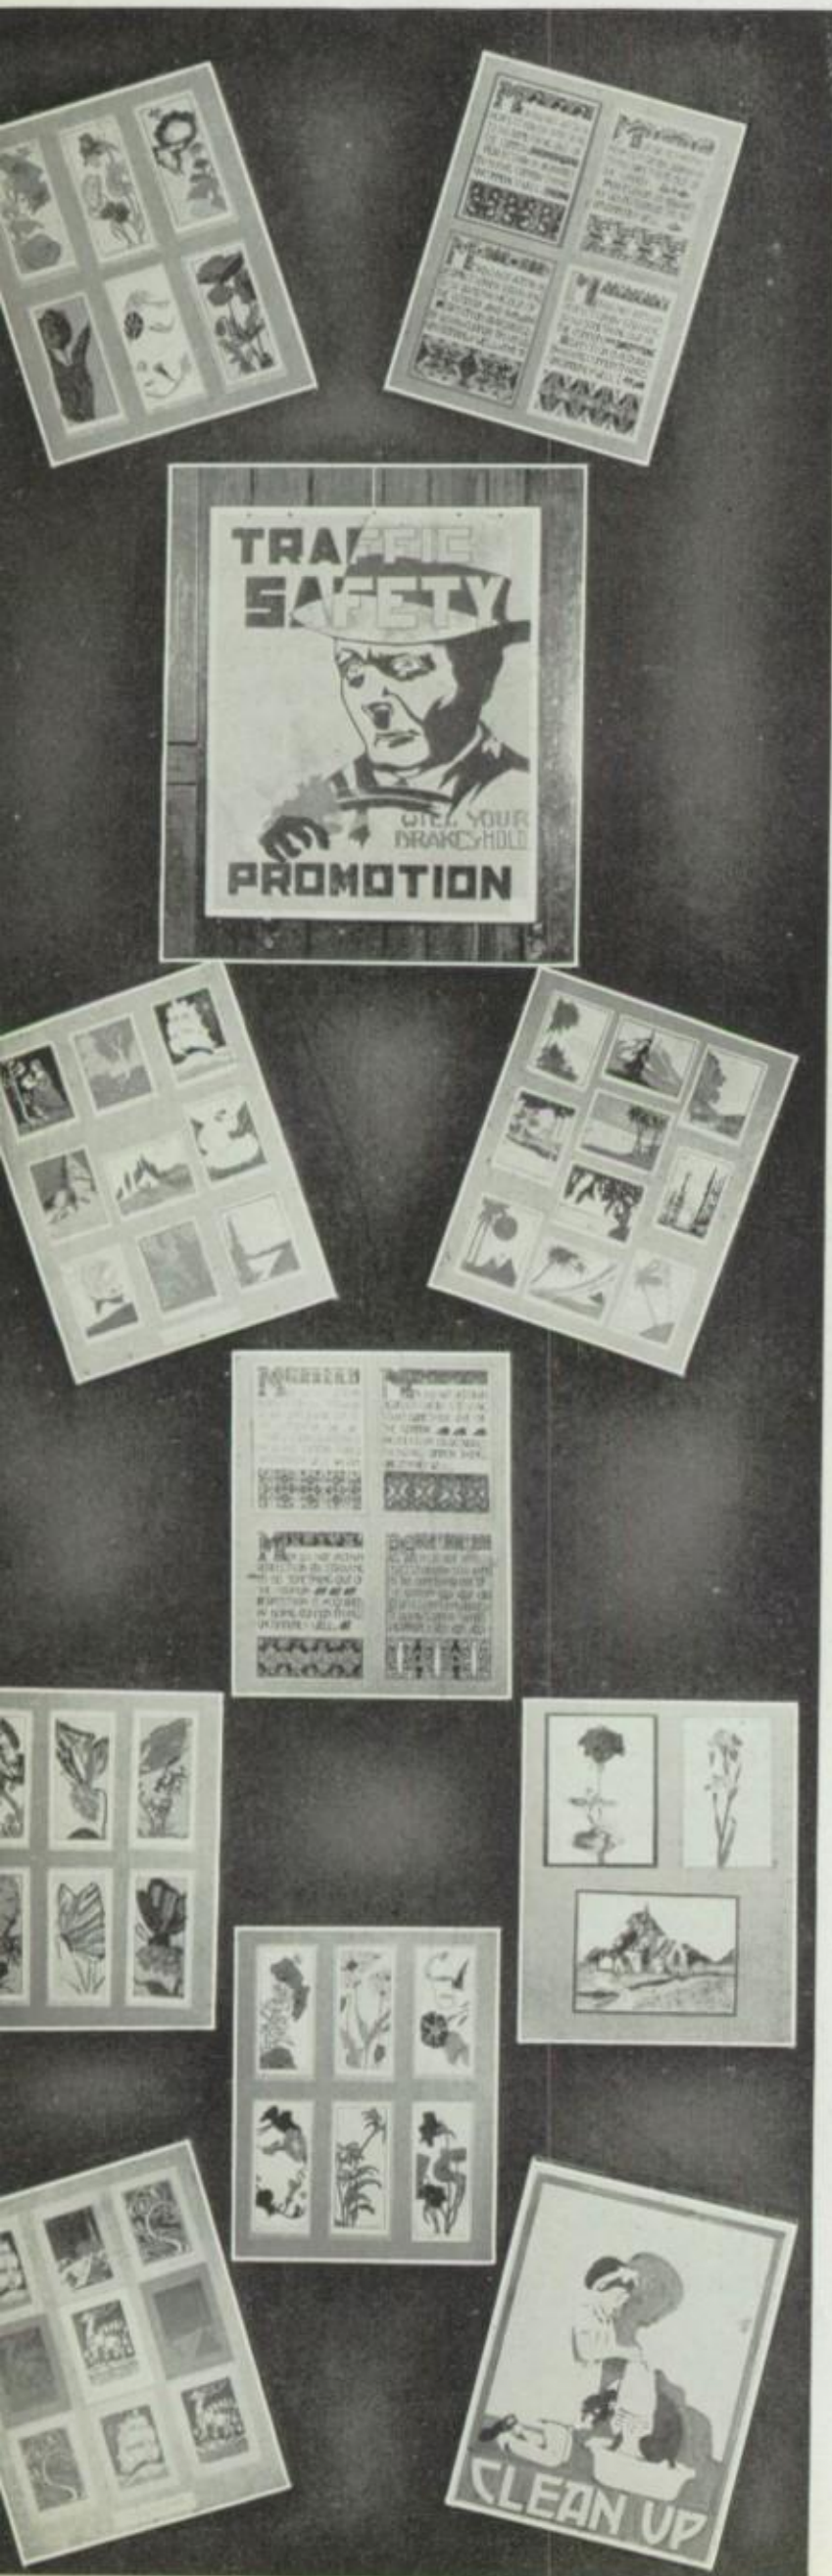

ESSENTIALS OF A POSTER

A study of posters involves a knowledge of the function of the poster. A poster does not, like an illustration, tell a story; rather, it attempts to convey an idea in the flash of an eye. Therefore, a good poster artist does not crowd his poster with detail, but he seizes upon and emphasizes an essential feature of the thing he wishes to advertise, so that the poster will attract, convince and sell—a product or an event.

ART FOR THE SCHOOL

The requests that come to the Art Club from other school organizations are very numerous. From a utilitarian standpoint we need the kind of work they give us and they need our products. Socially the situation makes for a fine warm feeling of cooperation and fellowship.

It is a great incentive to the art pupils to feel that there is a real need and use for their work. This integration is especially beneficial in a large school. It helps to bring a realization to the student of the existence and aims of other groups besides his own.

Series of three pen and ink sketches by Vera Taboloff and Florence Boe. 1. The Study Hour. 2. Still Life. 3. Fruit.

Last year during the clean-up campaign, John Kubulis exhibited the "Clean-Up" poster, shown in the lower right hand corner, in a city-wide contest and won a scholarship to the Art Institute. This poster is to be shown on "L" stations throughout Chicago this spring. The other pictures were drawn as class projects by 1B and 1A art students.

A CLEAN AND SANITARY SCHOOL

Joseph J. Spain

With 3,800 people crowded into a comparatively small space, such as the Harrison High School, it becomes quite a problem to keep the school in a clean and healthy condition. The tax-payers, through their representatives the Board of Education, have done a fine job by building this substantial building and then equipping it with all of the facilities necessary to give the pupils an education and to keep them in a comfortable, clean and healthful building while they are acquiring it.

The principal and his staff of teachers take care of the educational part of the school while the engineer-custodian and his staff take care of the heating, ventilating, cleaning and sanitation of the school.

Floors are swept daily and scrubbed every two months; woodwork, dados, desks, chairs and tables are dusted daily and washed every two months; toilet rooms are washed daily and glass doors are cleaned daily and upper transoms every two months. The building is heated to a temperature of 70 degrees at all times during school sessions. Thirty cubic feet of air per minute is put into the building for each occupant and the air of the whole building is changed every eleven minutes. All of this is necessary to prevent epidemics of sickness.

The co-operation of all the pupils is necessary to keep a clean and healthy school building. They must use ordinary care in keeping papers and rubbish off the floors and in proper receptacles as janitors and janitresses sweep and clean the school but once a day and when pupils arrive they find a clean building. How clean it is kept during the day depends upon the pupils.

Good sanitary conditions depend upon the proper use and care of drinking fountains and toilet fixtures. When they are broken, sanitary conditions become bad and disease becomes a hazard. Our pupils have always co-operated and as a result we have a clean and sanitary school building.

GOOD FOOD IS GOOD HEALTH

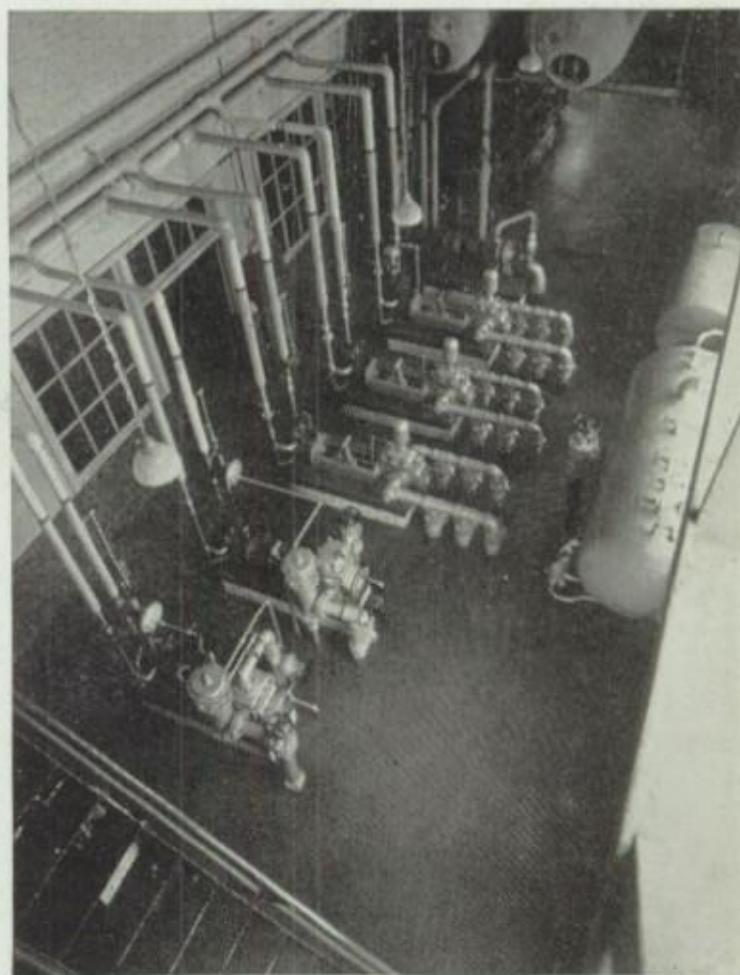

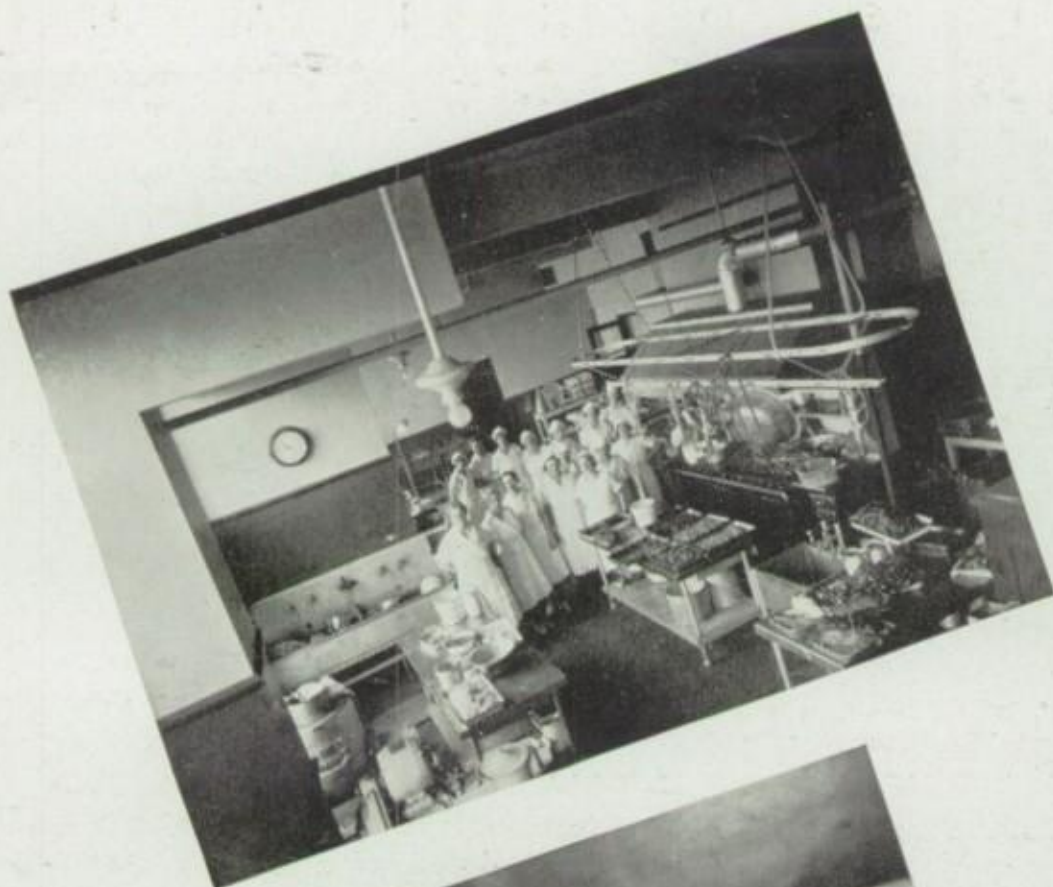

The foregoing slogan is still our watchword. We feel sure we can offer a wholesome, well-balanced meal for less money than it costs to bring a lunch from home, and the advantage of having it freshly prepared is a point well worth careful thought on the part of our students' parents. Mr. F. O. Washam, Director of School Lunch Rooms, caused to have a dish and glass washing unit installed in our east kitchen. This is a much-needed improvement and we invite inspection by all who are interested in the sanitary method of handling eating utensils. We are to have a new set of ranges and baking ovens, a new refrigerating plant and storeroom. Another new unit is our "cold table" located near the Teachers' lunch room, which keeps our beverages ice cold, therefore more palatable.

Mr. Maclear, our principal, and Mr. Spain, our engineer-custodian, have always given us whole-hearted co-operation, and we appreciate their efforts to help us carry on. Miss Lucille Ward painted the beautiful murals decorating our walls, depicting the public life of Carter H. Harrison, for whom our school was named. Four of the six murals are already in place. These were a class gift of the graduates of February, 1937.

We have suffered fewer losses from breakage of tables and chairs during this semester than in any corresponding term during the past few years, and we want to thank the student body and the persons in charge of them at lunch time for their consideration. Our Lunchroom Attendants are as usual, on the job, and to them we also owe a vote of thanks for the orderly condition of the dining room during lunch periods.

WHO IS YOUR ENGRAVER?

The success of your book depends to a great extent upon the engraver you select at the beginning of the year. • Quality in plate work is the first requisite. Second is Service. Originality, or the ability to put forth new ideas is the next important step. • Our Annual Department designed this book. If you liked it why not call Superior 7440 and ask to see a representative. • The facilities of this Department are at the disposal of your staff. We would like to hear from you.
